

DOWNTOWN DALLAS Downtown Safety Patrol Officers Master Bike Training

Downtown Safety Patrol (DSP) officers are required to go through a rigorous training program in order to begin bicycle patrol. The curriculum includes difficult obstacle courses and a 7-mile long endurance test. Along with the DSP officers, 10 Dallas Fire and Rescue Paramedics took part in the training session in July. Ten DSP officers passed the bicycle riding exam after completion of a 16 hour training course. The new bike officers joined the rest of the DSP officers patrolling the streets of Downtown Dallas.
